IMPORTANCE OF WEB 2.0 IN LIBRARIES

- Transformation in Library Services delivery
- Fast & Time Saving way to serve library patrons
- Interactive and Collaborative
- Based on Users feedback

LIBRARY CONSORTIA

- Consortium literally means "temporary cooperation of several powers or large interests to effect some common purpose"

- Library consortium is "a group of libraries that agree to pool their resources by allowing the user of each institution some type of access to resources of all other institutions"

- To share library services and resources Parliamentary libraries must sign a consortia. This is first step to share and collaborate with each other.

CONCLUSION

- Networking of research services through Library 2.0 Technology is a successful tool towards providing wide-ranging access with limited financial resources. Parliamentarians' requisition and expectations have also arisen with the rapid growth of information resources. Pakistan is a developing country and due to budget constrain, parliamentary libraries are powerless to acquire the required material, so they should aim for mutual cooperation. This model is an effective tool to fulfill Parliamentarians demands along with time and money saving . Model is also an interactive and collaborative and it may updated with the help of user feedback.

Q: Do you have an example of effective cooperation amongst parliamentary libraries? What collaborative tools can be used in this context?
